

Information and Instructions

Canada Pension Plan Death Benefit Application

What is the Canada Pension Plan (CPP) Death benefit?

The Canada Pension Plan Death benefit is a one-time, lump-sum payment on behalf of an eligible deceased CPP contributor. All CPP pensions and benefits are taxable. Contact the Canada Revenue Agency for guidance on how to report the CPP Death Benefit.

How do you qualify for the Canada Pension Plan Death benefit?

To qualify for a Death benefit, 2 conditions must be met:

1. The deceased must have made enough contributions to the Canada Pension Plan; and
2. You must apply in writing, or online at www.canada.ca, and submit the necessary documents.

How much money does the CPP Death Benefit provide to you?

Since January 2019, the death benefit pays up to $2,500 if the deceased made enough contributions to the CPP, or to the CPP and the Quebec Pension Plan (QPP).

In addition, if the death occurred on or after January 1, 2025, there is a top-up amount of up to $2,500 paid if the deceased:

- never received a CPP or QPP benefit based on their own contributions; and
- did not have a spouse or common-law partner eligible for the CPP survivor's pension.

The maximum death benefit payable is up to $5,000. This amount may be less if a social security agreement with another country is required to be eligible.

 If you are paid the top-up portion and the deceased is later approved for a retirement or disability benefit or a survivor's application is approved based on the deceased's contributions, you will be required to repay the top-up portion.

What we need from you

You must provide us with a complete application which includes:

- ✓ the Application for a Canada Pension Plan Death Benefit (ISP1200) form,
- ✓ an original photocopy (see Annex A below) of the proof of death for the deceased,
- ✓ all other documents and forms that apply to your situation (example: administrator named by the court).

 If the deceased had more than one Social Insurance Number, please attach a note to your application, listing all numbers assigned to the deceased.

 The Application for a Canada Pension Plan Death Benefit (ISP1200) is available in two formats:

 Online: Go to www.canada.ca/msca;

✓ Paper or fillable form: Go to www.canada.ca/esdc-forms.

 Note: You can save the fillable form to your computer, but you cannot submit it electronically.

If you are choosing to fill this application on a paper or fillable format, be sure to:

- ✓ include the deceased's Social Insurance Number at the top of each page;
- ✓ answer the questions with as much details as possible;

- ✓ sign all areas that require your signature using a pen;
- ✓ mail or drop-off your application to a Service Canada Office near you. For a list of addresses, refer to the last page of this application;
- ✓ include the information on a blank sheet and attach it to the application, if you need more space. Include the deceased's Social Insurance Number at the top of each page and specify the question number before writing the additional information.

Did the deceased contribute to the Québec Pension Plan?

 The CPP operates throughout Canada, except in Québec, where the Québec Pension Plan (QPP) provides similar benefits.

If the deceased contributed to both the CPP and QPP, the contributions made under both plans are combined when a benefit entitlement is calculated. You must apply for the QPP if the deceased last lived in the province of Québec or for the CPP if they last lived in another province or territory in Canada.

If one of the following applies, please contact Retraite Québec.

- The deceased was in receipt of Retirement or Disability benefit from Retraite Québec at time of death
- The deceased worked in Québec only
- The deceased worked in Québec and at least one other province/territory and last lived in Québec.
- The deceased worked in Québec and at least one other province/territory and last lived outside of Canada, and their last province of residence in Canada was Québec.

If you need help

 You can give permission to another person to give or receive information from Service Canada on your behalf.

To give permission, you must complete the Consent to Communicate Information to an Authorized Person (ISP1603). It is available in two formats:

 Online: Go to www.canada.ca/msca;

✓ Paper or fillable form: Go to www.canada.ca/esdc-forms.

This consent form does not provide authority for the person to act on your behalf. They cannot apply for benefits on your behalf.

 If you wish to have someone act on your behalf, you can appoint an authorized representative. If the applicant is no longer capable of managing their own affairs, Power of Attorney (POA) or trustee forms must be provided.

Forms to complete your application

? All forms that you may need to complete your application can be found online at www.canada.ca/esdc-forms or in person at a Service Canada Centre.

Once we receive your application

We will review your application and any supporting documents received and contact you if further information is required. Upon completion of our final review, we will send you a letter notifying if you are eligible for the benefits.

Application for a Canada Pension Plan Death Benefit

You must submit proof of the deceased contributor's date of death with your application. This is mandatory.

To be accepted as proof of death, the document must:

- ✓ name the deceased, date, and place of death,
- ✓ be on official letterhead or contain a seal, and
- ✓ provide the name and/or signature of the person or authority issuing the document.

The following documents may be accepted as proof of death:

- Burial or Death Certificate
- Statement Signed by a Funeral Director, Medical Doctor, or Coroner
- Certification of Death from another country if an agreement on social security exists with that country
- Life or Group Insurance Claim along with a statement signed by a medical doctor
- Medical Certification of Death
- Memorandum of Notification of Death issued by the Chief of National Defense Staff
- Notarial copy of Letters of Probate
- Official Notification from the Public Trustee for Province or Territory
- Registration of Death
- Statement of Verification of Death from the Department of Veteran's Affairs

You can send photocopies of any documents requested. If you must send your original documents, we suggest you send them by registered mail. We will return the original documents to you. (See Annex A below)

 IMPORTANT - Use a pen and print clearly if completing the application by hand

Section A – Information about the deceased contributor

You do not need to provide proof of birth for the deceased if you provided their Social Insurance Number in the application. However, the Canada Pension Plan has the right to request proof of birth at any time.

If you did not provide the Social Insurance Number of the deceased, then you must submit an original of the deceased's original birth certificate.

2.						<input type="radio"/> Yes <input type="radio"/> No

 For additional countries, please attach an extra sheet.

Section C – Who should apply and receive the Death benefit?

If an estate exists, an application by the executor or the administrator named by the court to administer the estate should be made within 60 days of the date of death. After 60 days Service Canada can consider other eligible applicants.

If there is no will, determine who is the next eligible applicant by using the order of priority stated below.

Payment of the Death benefit will be issued in the following order of priority:

1. The executor named in the will, or an administrator appointed by the courts;
2. The individual or institution who is responsible for the payment of the funeral (if no estate exists). In this case, the amount of the death benefit cannot exceed the amount paid in respect of funeral expenses;
3. The surviving spouse or common-law partner of the deceased (if there is no estate or payer of funeral expenses);
4. The next-of-kin.

C1 Is there an eligible person higher on the order of priority choosing not to apply for the Death benefit?

The executor, or the individual or institution who is responsible for the payment of the funeral expenses may choose to not apply for the Death benefit. If this is the situation, please have that individual complete the section below.

I am the (choose all that apply)

- executor named in the will, or an administrator appointed by the courts,
- individual or institution who is responsible for the payment of the funeral expenses, and I am choosing not to apply for the Death benefit.

First name		Middle name	Last name(s)
Home address (number, street, apartment, RR)
City or town	Province or territory	Country	Postal code
Signature		Date (YYYY-MM-DD)	Daytime telephone number
Service Canada may contact the person named above to confirm that they will not apply for the benefit.

 If there is a second eligible individual higher on the order of priority choosing not to apply, use the space provided on page 7, or attach an extra sheet of paper, and provide the same information as above for the second individual.

Section E – Applicant’s Declaration and Signature

I hereby apply for Canada Pension Plan Death benefit on behalf of the deceased. I declare that, to the best of my knowledge, the information given in this application is true and complete.

Protection of personal information

The information requested is required under the Canada Pension Plan. We may not be able to process an application or approve a benefit if you do not give us all the information we need. We will keep this information in the Personal Information Bank ESDC PPU 146. Your personal information is governed by the Privacy Act and we may disclose it where we are authorized to do so under the CPP.

This Information Sheet contains general information concerning the Canada Pension Plan Death benefit. The information reflects the Canada Pension Plan legislation. If there are any differences between what is in the Information Sheet and the Canada Pension Plan legislation, the legislation is always right.

Note: If you make a false or misleading statement, you may be subject to an administrative monetary penalty and interest, if any, under the Canada Pension Plan, or may be charged with an offence. Any benefits you received or obtained to which there was no entitlement would have to be repaid.

Section F – Witness’s Declaration

If the applicant signs with a mark, a witness (friend, member of family, etc.) must complete this section.

I have read the contents of this application to the applicant, who appeared to fully understand and who made their mark in my presence.

First name of witness (print)	Middle name	Last name(s)	Relationship to the applicant
Address (Number, street, apt., PO Box, RR) City, town or village, Province or territory, Country, Postal code
Witness's signature			Date (YYYY-MM-DD)

 IMPORTANT

Service Canada can only begin to process your application if it is complete, and you provided all necessary documentation. Be sure all relevant fields are completed.

You must submit proof of the deceased contributor’s date of death with your application.

Checklist – Before you send your application

- Did you complete every field on this application that is required for you to receive a benefit from Service Canada?
- Have you provided an original or photocopy of the proof of death of the deceased?
- If you are applying as the individual or institution who is responsible for the payment of the funeral expenses, have you provided the: Total amount paid in funeral expenses, Services provider, and Services provider telephone in Section C2?
- Have you indicated the deceased's Social Insurance Number on all documents before sending them to us? (except originals)
- Have you read and signed the Declaration on page 6?

Use this space, if needed, to provide us with more information. Please indicate the question number concerned for each answer given. If you need more space, use a separate sheet of paper and attach it to this application.

What you must do after you receive the Death benefit

If you move

If you are the person who will be filing the deceased's tax return, you must tell us if you move within one year of being approved for a Death benefit. This way, we will be able to send you the tax slip you will need for income tax purposes.

Non-Resident Tax

If you are a non-resident of Canada for income tax purposes, Service Canada may deduct a Non-Resident Tax from the Death benefit. The tax rate is 25% unless the country you live in has a tax treaty with Canada that reduces the rate or exempts you from paying the tax.

Other Pensions / Provision

www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/publicpensions

Child Rearing Provision

This provision may help the deceased contributor qualify for the Death benefit and/or may increase their CPP benefits retroactively if they were ever in pay for CPP Retirement or Disability benefits. If the deceased was the primary caregiver for children under the age of 7, and received or was eligible to receive Family Allowances ("Baby Bonus") or the Canada Child Benefit on behalf of those children born after December 31, 1958. For more information, contact Service Canada, visit www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/publicpensions, or print an application from www.canada.ca/esdc-forms.

Retirement pension

If the deceased made contributions to the Canada Pension Plan and/or the Québec Pension Plan, was at least 70 years of age at the time of their death and had not applied for or received a CPP Retirement pension, you should complete and submit the Application for a Canada Pension Plan Retirement Pension (ISP1000) form found online at www.canada.ca/esdc-forms. The application must be made within one year of the date of death. If it is later determined that the contributor was entitled to a post-mortem retirement pension, there is no longer entitlement to the top-up amount for a Death benefit and that amount would result in an overpayment requiring recovery.

Survivor's Pension and Surviving Child's Benefit

Under the Canada Pension Plan, a Survivor's pension can be paid to the person who, at the time of death, was the legal spouse or common-law partner of the deceased contributor. If you were legally separated from your deceased spouse at the time of their death, you may still qualify for a Survivor's pension. Benefits can also be paid to the surviving children of the deceased contributor if they are under the age of 18, or between the ages of 18 and 25 and are attending school full time or part-time. All eligibility requirements must be met. If it is later determined that the contributor's spouse or common-law partner was entitled to a survivor's pension, there is no longer entitlement to the top-up amount for a Death benefit and that amount would result in an overpayment requiring recovery. For more information on the CPP Survivor's Pension and the Surviving Child benefit contact Service Canada, visit www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/publicpensions, or print an application from www.canada.ca/esdc-forms.

Old Age Security pension

If the deceased was at least 65 years of age, they may be eligible for an Old Age Security pension. An application must be received within one year of the date of death. For more information, contact Service Canada, visit www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/publicpensions, or print an application from www.canada.ca/esdc-forms.

Allowance for the Survivor

If the deceased contributor's spouse or common-law partner is between 60 and 64 years of age and has low income, they may be eligible for an Allowance for the Survivor through the Old Age Security program. For more information, contact Service Canada, visit www.canada.ca/en/services/benefits/publicpensions, or print an application from www.canada.ca/esdc-forms.

Annex A - Photocopies of original documents

Please send photocopies rather than original documents whenever submitting documents to Service Canada. If you must send your original documents, we suggest you send them by registered mail. We will return the original documents to you.

- We can only accept a photocopy of an original document if it is readable.
- If the document has information on more than one page, photocopy all pages.
- Please write your Social Insurance Number on any document or photocopy that you send to Service Canada.

Note: If your photocopy is missing any of the above elements, it will not be accepted, and you will have to submit a new photocopy. This could result in delays in processing your application. Service Canada may request an original or certified copy at any time.
